The “Mardi Gras King Kake” is a danish cinnamon filled coffee cake iced with fondant, covered with gold, green & purple sugar, gold, green and purple beads & coins. The “Mardi Gras King Kake”, coffee cake was baked in honor of the Three Holy Kings and the Christ Child. In Medieval times, a small figure representing the Christ Child was placed inside the coffee cake. In New Orleans, the person who receives the piece of “Kake” containing a “baby” must provide the King Kake for the next gathering of the season. In 1872, the official colors of Mardi Gras were selected:

PURPLE for Justice

GOLD for Power

GREEN for Faith
